DETAILED ACTION

This is the first Office action on the merits of Application No. 10/817,376 filed on April 2, 2004. Claims 1-25 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 5 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McCrady et al. '936 which discloses a power transmission device including an input member 10, an output member 13, and a clutch 17, 18, 25 disposed between the input and output members. McCrady further shows the clutch actuator including the tapered drive member 46 which engages the tapered surface of the reaction member 48. The drive member is movable between extended and retracted positions. Further note column 6, lines 61-67 regarding the not illustrated means for controlling translation of the drive member. The not illustrated means is believed to be readable on the "power-operated actuator" since it actuates the drive member in response to force applied thereto. Power is defined as the product of the force applied times the distance the member is moved divided by the time increment during which the force is applied.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-25 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-39 of U.S. Patent No. 6,766,889 B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because each is directed to the apparatus shown in the figures. The claims of the present application are merely broader recitations of the invention set forth in the claims of the '889 patent.

Prior Art Citation

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Each of the prior art references listed on the form PTO-1449 submitted with the Information Disclosure Statement filed on April 2, 2004 have been considered. Pollinger et al. '229 and Kagata et al. '428 were each cited in the parent application.
